NCAA LIVE- Excused Absence Information

To Whom It May Concern - Regarding Student-Athletes attending 2024 NCAA Live sessions

As the top Girls Athletic program in the United States, The Finest Basketball Club (FBC) provides a multi-training, resilient platform of academic excellence and athletic development. Our goal is to produce fundamentally sound student-athletes through persistence, discipline, and commitment to the process. Your student is a member of our program and has been invited to participate in UA Session 1 4/19/24-4/21/24 in Manheim, PA, PUMA Session 1 5/3/24-5/5/24 in Atlanta, GA, Insider Exposure 5/17-5/19 in Greensboro, NC, & Puma Session 2 5/24/24-5/26/24 in Cincinnati, OH. During these NCAA certified Live viewing events, NCAA member schools and their coaches will be present evaluating student-athletes for consideration for a college scholarship.

The 2024 Spring Events brings together many of the nation's elite prep athletes. NCAA Live viewing events include top student-athletes from across the country, with considerable attention focused on the prospects in the graduating Classes of 2025 through 2029. The overall mission is to create an elite individual showcase that combines skill development, competition, college preparedness, and high-level exposure.

During this event and if game schedules permit, the student-athlete will have the opportunity to tour the neighboring College Campuses, meet with Academic Advisors to become familiar with GPA and course requirements for admission, and converse with current College Students about their experiences as 'primary' a student - and 'secondary' an athlete. FBC requires a mandatory rest period during the tournament period, which during this time the students are asked to study and complete their academic assignments. Please excuse the above student-athlete from any missed school sessions (notated below) to participate in this NCAA College Preparatory and Sporting event.
